Sleeveface

If you've not witnessed this yet then Sleeveface is this year's internet craze.

The Sleeveface phenomenon started by two customers of ours that live down the road in Cardiff, but swiftly spread through the web into a global success. The concept is so simple, yet ingenious.

All you have to do is obscure part of your body with your favourite (or most amusing) LP sleeve, get the perspective right, and take a photograph.

If you have a sense of humour and a love of cover art, this is for you!

After making people laugh out loud on the web, and following a feature in People magazine, some of the best web images have made it into this new book. It's brilliant! We guarantee you won't be able to put it down.

Last Shop Standing

Graham Jones' book documenting the decline of record shops in the United Kingdom. Graham undertook a tour of Britain's remaining shops and has collected a wealth of stories that explain why the best are still standing and how the worst of them blew it.

Our very own Mark is featured in the book and there's a very fetching photograph of him outside the shop.

The book is a must for every person young or old that has spent their free time rummaging around their local record shop.
